

CONTENTS

NUMBER 1, JANUARY, 1939

| | |
|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----|
| I. Standardization of Safety Margin. R. H. K. Foster..... | 1 |
| II. Electrical Studies on the Pharmacology of Autonomic Synapses. I. The Action of Parasympathomimetic Drugs on Sympathetic Ganglia. Amedeo S. Marrazzi..... | 18 |
| III. Vitamin B Fractions and Insulin Tolerance in the Albino Rat. A. R. McIntyre and J. C. Burke..... | 36 |
| IV. An Analysis of Seasonal Influences on the Response of Albino Mice to Anesthetics. Edwin J. deBeer, Axel M. Hjort and Charles A. Cook..... | 46 |
| V. An Analysis of Seasonal Influences on the Duration of Anesthesia in Albino Mice. Edwin J. deBeer, Axel M. Hjort and Charles A. Cook..... | 61 |
| VI. The Effect of Giving 2:4 Dinitrophenol on the Cardiac Output and on Certain Other Objective Measurements of the Circula- tion in Human Beings. Harold J. Stewart, Norman F. Crane and John E. Deitrick..... | 70 |
| VII. The Effect of the Diet Upon the Anesthetic Qualities of Some Hypnotics. Axel M. Hjort, Edwin J. deBeer and David W. Fassett..... | 79 |
| VIII. Comparison of the Toxic, Hypnotic and Irritating Properties of Eight Organic Solvents. Albert R. Latven and Hans Molitor..... | 89 |
| IX. Studies on the Toxicity and Pharmacology of Nicotinic Acid. Klaus Unna..... | 95 |
| X. The Gonadotropic and Adrenotropic Hormones of the Chicken Hypophysis. Roland K. Meyer, C. H. Mellish and Herbert S. Kupperman..... | 104 |
| XI. The Hypophysectomized Frog (Rana Pipiens) as a Specific Test Object for Melanophore Hormone of the Pituitary Body. R. S. Teague, R. O. Noojin, and E. M. K. Geiling..... | 115 |

NUMBER 2, FEBRUARY, 1939

|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----|
| XII. The Local Anaesthetic Properties of Certain Heterocyclic Com- pounds. G. A. Levvy and H. B. Nisbet..... | 129 |
| XIII. Studies of Cyclopropane. V. The Effect of Morphine, Barbitol, and Amytal upon the Concentration of Cyclopropane in the Blood Required for Anesthesia and Respiratory Arrest. Ben- jamin H. Robbins, J. H. Baxter, Jr., and O. Garth Fitzhugh.. | 136 |
| XIV. Influence of Certain Metals on the Stability of Insulin. Melville Sahyun, Arthur Nixon and M. Goodell..... | 143 |
| XV. The Vasoconstrictor Action of Cocaine. William H. Crosby.... | 150 |

| | |
|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----|
| XVI. Chronic Oral Administration of Atabrine. S. J. Martin, B. Cominole, and B. B. Clark..... | 156 |
| XVII. The Effect of Atabrine on Liver and Kidney Function. B. B. Clark, B. Cominole, and S. J. Martin..... | 166 |
| XVIII. The Effect of Thio-Bismol on Therapeutic Malaria. Walter F. Schwartz..... | 175 |
| XIX. The Effect of Anesthesia on the Vasomotor Reversal. Robert P. Herwick, Charles R. Linegar and Theodore Koppanyi..... | 185 |
| XX. Studies on the Synergism and Antagonism of Drugs. III. Further Studies on the Action of Nicotine and Physostigmine on Sympathetic Ganglia. Charles R. Linegar, Robert P. Herwick and Theodore Koppanyi..... | 191 |
| XXI. The Metabolic Fate of N-Methylbarbituric Acids. Thomas C. Butler and Milton T. Bush..... | 205 |
| XXII. The Distribution of Administered Bromide in Comparison with Chloride and Its Relation to Body Fluids. G. B. Wallace and B. B. Brodie. With the assistance of Max M. Friedman and David Brand..... | 214 |
| XXIII. The Distribution of Iodide, Thiocyanate, Bromide and Chloride in the Central Nervous System and Spinal Fluid. G. B. Wallace and B. B. Brodie. With the assistance of Max M. Friedman and David Brand..... | 220 |
| NUMBER 3, MARCH, 1939 | |
| XXIV. The Action of Pentamethylenetetrazol (Metrazol) on the Circulatory System. Victor G. Haury and Charles M. Gruber.... | 227 |
| XXV. Respiratory Inhibitory and Paralytic Effects of Some Barbitol Hypnotics and Coal-Tar Analgesics. A. J. Lehman..... | 235 |
| XXVI. A Comparison of the Effect of Calcium and of Atropine and Scopolamine on the Plasma Loss and on the General Symptoms of Guanidine Intoxication. A. S. Minot..... | 243 |
| XXVII. A Study of the Mechanisms Involved in the Loss of Plasma in Guanidine Intoxication and in the Prevention of Such a Loss by Atropine and by Calcium. A. S. Minot..... | 253 |
| XXVIII. The Influence of Digoxin on the Potassium Content of Heart Muscle. Alfred M. Wedd..... | 268 |
| XXIX. Experimental Convulsions in the Rat. W. L. Sampson and L. Fernandez..... | 275 |
| XXX. The Pharmacological Action of Deuterium Oxide. VII. Its Effect on the Hydrolysis of Acetylcholine. Henry G. Barbour and Virginia C. Dickerson..... | 281 |
| XXXI. Studies on the Prevention of Liver Cirrhosis by the Subcutaneous Injections of Xanthine Containing Preparations. J. C. Forbes..... | 287 |
| XXXII. Studies of Carbazole Derivatives. I. Aminocarbazoles. Nathan B. Eddy..... | 294 |
| XXXIII. Studies of Carbazole Derivatives. II. Amino Alcohols, and Derivatives of Tetrahydrocarbazole. Nathan B. Eddy..... | 308 |

|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----|
| XXXIV. The Action of Magnesium on the Central Nervous System and Its Antagonism by Calcium. G. W. Bryant, G. Lehmann and P. K. Knoefel..... | 318 |
| XXXV. Observations on Potassium Fibrillation. L. H. Nahum and H. E. Hoff..... | 322 |
| XXXVI. Morphine as a Metabolic Stimulant. Henry G. Barbour, Janet A. Porter and Joyce M. Seelye..... | 332 |

NUMBER 4, APRIL, 1939

| | |
|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----|
| XXXVII. Additional Data Concerning the Chemistry of the Pressor and Oxytocic Hormones of the Pituitary Gland. R. L. Stehle and S. M. Trister..... | 343 |
| XXXVIII. Studies on Phenothiazine. VIII. Antiseptic Value of Phenothiazine in Urinary Tract Infections. Floyd deEds, A. B. Stockton, and John O. Thomas..... | 353 |
| XXXIX. Sulfanilamide Concentration and Distribution in Blood and Urine in Sulfanilamide Therapy for Gonococcic Infections in Men. Lorenz Hansen..... | 372 |
| XL. Influence of Age and Weight of Pigs on Response to Sodium Evipan. H. P. Donald and J. Raventós..... | 383 |
| XLI. The Inhibition of Choline Esterase by Thiamine (Vitamin B ₁). David Glick and William Antopol..... | 389 |
| XLII. Electrical Studies on the Pharmacology of Autonomic Synapses. II. The Action of a Sympathomimetic Drug (Epinephrine) on Sympathetic Ganglia. Amedeo S. Marrazzi..... | 395 |
| XLIII. Some Pharmacological and Toxicological Properties of Sulfanilamide and Benzylsulfanilamide. Hans Molitor and Harry Robinson. With the technical assistance of Otto Graessle.... | 405 |
| XLIV. Studies of Phenanthrene Derivatives. VIII. The Action of Some Phenanthrene Derivatives on the Isolated Frog Heart. Erwin E. Nelson..... | 424 |
| XLV. The Effect of Acacia on the Blood. Robert L. Jackson and Lois Frayser..... | 440 |
| XLVI. The Effect of Intravenous Injections of Magnesium Sulfate on the Vascular Systems. Victor G. Haury..... | 453 |
| XLVII. The Action of Potassium Salts on the Isolated Kidney of the Dog. Robert M. Isenberger and Mary Whelan Tyler. With the assistance of D. L. Miller and M. C. Carroll..... | 461 |
| XLVIII. Index..... | 475 |
