

The Journal of

PHARMACOLOGY

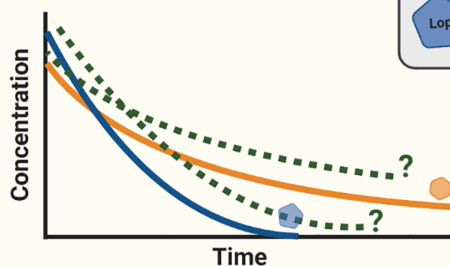

And Experimental Therapeutics

Co-administration of μ and δ -opioid receptor agonists leads to synergistic antihyperalgesia and analgesia.

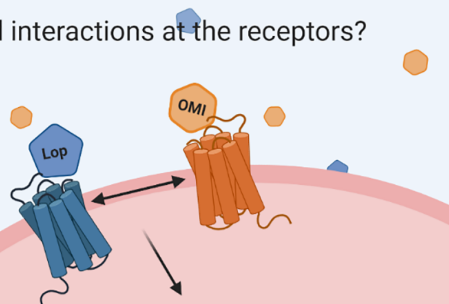

What mediates this effect?

A change in systemic pharmacokinetics or CNS distribution?

Altered interactions at the receptors?

Changes in downstream signaling?